

VOLUNTEER WITH MERRIMACK REPERTORY THEATRE

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP!

COHORT CLUB

Members of the Cohort Club have the unique opportunity to become a part of the creation of professional theatre right here in Lowell. They are a part of the team through observations of the rehearsal and production process, and conversations with the artistic team. The Cohorts are 20-30 people from Lowell and the surrounding areas of varied ages, races, and backgrounds. They follow three shows from start (first rehearsal) to finish (Opening Night) and then write about the experience. Interested in becoming a Cohort? Write a message to our Artistic Director Sean Daniels at sean.daniels@mrt.org and let him know why you'd be a good fit.

FRIENDS OF MRT

Join us this season as a member of the Friends of MRT. The Friends of MRT is a group that hosts special events, social functions, and fund drives. They also assist around the office. This vital group plays a pivotal role in strengthening Merrimack Repertory Theatre's base of support. Not only will you enjoy the fun, social environment, networking opportunities with other theatre lovers and supporters, and the valuable sense of accomplishment that accompanies volunteer work, but we have added benefits exclusively for members of the Friends. They meet on Wednesday evenings on Friends and Family Night before each show of the season. They also meet before special events. For more information, please contact Marianna Wood, our Special Events Manager and Development Coordinator, at marianna.wood@mrt.org, 978-654-7579.
