2019-20 CORPORATE SPONSORS
Welcome to the 2019-20 Season at Merrimack Repertory Theatre! I am so excited to share this season with you.

We’ve been working on this season for over a year—we read more than 40 plays; we crunched numbers; we hired directors, designers, and actors; we created marketing plans and strategized new ways to engage our donors. After all that work, we are ready to share the first play of the season, Tiny Beautiful Things, with you. Personally, this play combines two of my favorite things—advice columns and the words of Cheryl Strayed. I love advice columns (and Strayed’s writing) for the same reasons that I love theatre—they make us laugh, make us feel less alone, and give us a new perspective on the world. With the addition of Erma Bombeck: At Wit’s End as the last show of the season, we’re starting and ending our season with lots of heart and humor.

Last season, the Board of Trustees undertook a huge thing—creating a new strategic plan for MRT. The Trustees gathered feedback from across the organization and community and crafted some big goals for MRT, including our new mission and vision statements:

We create remarkable new and contemporary plays that bring joy to our art form while engaging, entertaining and enriching our community.

Our vision is to be the national leader of new play production and the first choice for playwrights to premiere their work, attracting the best artists while modeling equity, diversity and inclusion across the community.

You are part of our vision and our mission, and together we engage, entertain, and enrich our community. The tiny beautiful thing that I love about this mission statement is the idea that we bring joy to our art form. When that word was added to an early draft of the mission, I was skeptical. We were, and are, struggling to find the resources to support our vision. But here’s the thing, there is joy in this work even when it’s challenging.

Thank you.

Bonnie J. Butkas

“WELCOME. THIS IS A DIVERSE, INCLUSIVE, ACCEPTING AND SAFE SPACE.”

It is an honor to serve as Interim Artistic Director for MRT. What that means is that I have stepped in where Sean Daniels left off and am, hopefully, making a seamless transition to the stellar new leadership that MRT will announce in the near future. The search for the ideal artistic leader is in full swing and in excellent hands. Until that person has been engaged, I will be here to serve the theatre, community, staff, artists, and audiences.

I’ve inherited a wonderfully crafted, well thought-out season, filled with artists new (and returning) to MRT, and new to me. As I’ve gotten to know them and the line-up of plays for the 2019-20, season, I can without hesitation say that we are lucky to have such an extraordinary group of theatre makers in our midst. Get ready for work that challenges what you think, shines a light on what you may not know, and explores the human heart in all of its deep and profound twists and turns.

By exclusively focusing on new work, MRT and you have signed a pact to explore voices of today and find those stories that live on well beyond us. You have signed on to shape the landscape of theatre across the country, around the world, for future generations.

Over the past 25 years, I have devoted myself to new work because I believe that that is our duty to our art form. I have never been afraid of the unknown. And, when I have found an extraordinary piece that I hear for the first time ever, and it cracks open my heart, I want to tell all my friends. I want to share a brand-new story with anyone passionate about theatre, anyone who cares about the human condition.

Cutting a path for new voices that represent us today takes work. Meaning new work, like small children, needs a nurturing and safe place to grow and reach their potential. Ten percent of all the plays I’ve ever seen or read (which is a lot) are excellent. If there is one play in this season’s line-up that moves your soul or teaches you something you don’t know, or makes you feel something deeply true, then we have been a success. I have a feeling that more than one of these delicious new works will make you feel more connected to each other and to the art that you and MRT support.

Supporting the artists of today and the art form for tomorrow is a tremendous gift and an exceptional way to affect change and make the world a better place. For this, we thank you for your incredible generosity.

I look forward to meeting you in person, hearing your thoughts on the work, and continuing to bring great theatre to Lowell and well beyond.

With respect and love,

Interim Artistic Director
FROM NIA VARDALOS, PLAYWRIGHT

The letters are real. I thought, as I read Cheryl Strayed’s incredibly moving book, Tiny Beautiful Things. People wrote these letters.

A few years ago, author Cheryl Strayed gave advice as Sugar for the literary website, The Rumpus, and later collected the letters into a book. Journalist Marshall Heyman gave his friend, director Thomas Kail, the book and Tommy gave it to me suggesting it could become a play. As I read the letters exchanged, I wept, smiled, and was astonished by the raw and extraordinary candor.

Sugar and the writers of the letters reveal themselves, and we find ourselves in their conundrums and sorrows, in their lives lived and roads traveled. I yearned to be as bold, audacious and willful. As I adapted the book into a play, I found the words so illuminating that I grieved and moved on from certain events of my own.

Still, if I had one letter to write, it would be:

Dear Sugar, I hope to be as brave as the writers of the letters and as open as Cheryl Strayed.

Celebrate the Fiery, Funny Brilliance of Cambodian Rock Band

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 6 P.M. AT THE NANCY L. DONAHUE THEATRE

The party will serve as an introduction to the East Coast premiere of Lauren Yee’s Cambodia Rock Band, described by the Chicago Sun-Times as “brilliant...crazily clever and compelling. There’s never a dull moment.”

Cambodian Rock Band is a co-production with Victory Gardens Theatre in Chicago, where the production debuted last spring, and City Theatre in Pittsburgh, where it is currently playing. The show arrives here October 16.
CAMBODIAN ROCK BAND
Oct 16-Nov 10
BY LAUREN YEE
DIRECTED BY MARTI LYONS
SONGS BY DENGUE FEVER
ADDITIONAL SONGS BY SNN SISAMOUTH, VOY HO, AND ROS SEREY SOTHEA

In 1978, a father flees Cambodia’s Khmer Rouge regime. Thirty years later, his daughter attempts to piece together her family history, kicking off the events of Cambodian Rock Band, “a riveting play that’s part mystery, part history lesson, and part unabashed jukebox musical concert,” according to Broadway World. Rock Band celebrates the resilient bond of family through hardship and sacrifice and the enduring power of 70s music.

“A fierce, gorgeous, heartwarming, comedic fairy tale. Yee has made her characters so joyfully and ridiculously human that it’s impossible not to identify with them.”

THE LIVING LEGACY SOCIETY

Merimack Repertory Theatre’s Living Legacy Society was established to provide a lasting legacy for donors who believe in the mission of MRT.

The Living Legacy Society helps you combine financial goals with charitable giving. When you support MRT with a planned gift to the Living Legacy Society, you can:

- Secure steady payments throughout your lifetime and increase available income
- Reduce income, estate, and capital gains taxes
- Ensure support of a loved one after your lifetime
- Build lasting support for the greater Merrimack Valley’s only professional theatre

Living Legacy Society gifts may be made through a bequest, a gift of appreciated securities or assets, beneficiary designation of retirement plans or life insurance, a charitable remainder trust, or a gift of property.

Your support will ensure that MRT continues its vital role in arts, education, and community building for years to come.

If you have already made MRT part of your estate plans, we invite you to join the Living Legacy Society. Thank you.
